

Quest-Giving Dialogue

START OF QUEST

EXT: Upon arriving at the crossroads, there is suddenly a bright light that is shown upon the pair as they are about to set off on their journey.

ALESSANDRA:

What is this light?

ZEUS:

Young heroes! We have seen your loss at the hands of the Giants
army and have a proposition for you.

The two siblings stood in shock as right before their eyes were the legendary Greek Gods and Goddesses.

ALESSANDRA:

How is this possible?

ATHENA:

Anything is possible young one.
We simply seek to help you on your quest as we have a common enemy in this case.

ALESSANDRA:

And who might that
be if I may ask?

POSEIDON:

The enemy that you seek is the remaining Giants and their army of monsters. They are wreaking havoc across all of Greece and seek to destroy Olympus and take over the realm for themselves.

ALL OF THE GODS:

Now we ask you, will you take up this quest to defeat the Giants and their army and save not only Olympus, but all of Greece as well?

DO YOU ACCEPT THE QUEST OFFERED BEFORE YOU.

ALESSANDRA:

I accept.

ATHENA:

Excellent! Now here take these weapons, they will aid you in your journey.

The two siblings take the items from the Gods and marvel at their craftsmanship.

POSEIDON:

Now you will need to recruit other heroes
to join your journey and collect other ancient relics along the way in order to take on the Giants and their army as well.

ALESSANDRA:

Where would you have us begin?

ZEUS:

One of my children is nearby.

He should be able to join your journey,

there is also a beast that is nearby and is causing havoc as well.

ALESSANDRA:

Very well we will begin then.

And with another flash of light,

the Gods were gone, leaving the siblings alone.

As you go left, you head near a small hut that looks to be inhabited.

Upon closer inspection, you notice that there is someone chopping wood to the side of the hut.

HERCULES:

To what do I owe
the pleasure of visitors?

ALESSANDRA:

We have been sent on a mission to slay the Giants and their monster army that threatens all of Greece. Will you join us?

HERCULES:

Ah I see... well, I suppose I will join you. It's about time that I stretched my legs a bit. Now where to?

ANTREAS:

Apparently there is a beast nearby
that is terrorizing those around it.

Perhaps we should start there.

ASK QUESTIONS.

ALESSANDRA:

Why are you so willing
to join us?

HERCULES:

I am rather bored and seek adventure at the moment.

ALESSANDRA:

Why are you here?

HERCULES:

This island is a peaceful place
and I wanted to live in peace,
even if it was rather brief.

ALESSANDRA:

Is your father
really Zeus?

HERCULES:

Of course he is. My father is not one to lie and my strength is godlike as well.

GO RIGHT.

As the three of you progress further into the field you suddenly hear a mighty roar.
Out of the thick grass is the mighty Nemean Lion.

ANTREAS:

By the Gods that thing is huge!

HERCULES:

Not to worry, with my help,
we can take down this beast.

FACE THE LION.

As you approach the lion, you begin to fire arrows from afar to distract it while Hercules runs towards the lion with his club raised high.
You each take turns in attacking the beast and ensuring that you dodge the oncoming attacks.
As the fight continues, you notice that Antreas has run out of arrows and began to charge at the lion before being batted away by the beast's gigantic paw.

ALESSANDRA:

Antreas!

Almost right after Antreas falls, Hercules is suddenly thrown to the side as well as the lion sets its sight on Alessandra.
The lion now heavily wounded, begins to charge towards Alessandra.

DODGE.

You swiftly move out of the way the lion charges and begin to fire more arrows hitting the beast every time.
Unfortunately, you also run out of arrows and am left with a sword at your disposal.
As the beast runs back towards you, you begin to charge towards the lion and at the last moment you slide underneath the lion and hold your sword up and as you move, the beast now has a giant cut in its stomach.

It slowly moves forward before collapsing.

HERCULES:

Haha well done, now we can harvest
its hide as it is near impenetrable.

This should be useful in our journeys to come.

COLLECT THE NEMEAN LION SKIN.
